

Beth Barritt Clinic

April 4th, 2009

Beth Barritt has been a USEF "R" Dressage judge since 1984, has her Bronze and Silver medals and is on her way to obtaining her Gold. Beth uses a classical approach in her training, incorporating a variety of gymnastics. She studies with Linda Zang year round in both Maryland and in Florida and also trains monthly with Uwe Steiner, who has been coming to Beth's farm for 15 years. (Uwe Steiner is an FEI trainer who trained his wife, Betsey Steiner and was an instructor in a prestigious training center in Germany before coming to the US). Beth currently rides and competes multiple horses along with starting the baby horses in her care. Her 'main squeeze' is her horse Bergamo, whom she started as a 3-year old and is now 19, successfully competing in the FEI division.
